Online Edition

ECS journals follow an article-based publication model instead of an issue-based model. As soon as possible after acceptance, an article is published online into an "issue in progress" in the ECS Digital Library. The publication of the article is not embargoed; there is no delay or wait for an entire issue to be complete. The article that is published online is the citable version of record with volume, issue, and final page numbers that are not subject to change later. The standard lag time from acceptance to publication in an ECS journal is 10 days or less. Any errors found after publication may only be corrected by publishing errata. The abstracts of articles are freely available to all visitors to the ECS Digital Library. The online full-text articles are available either through ECS membership, subscription, or by purchase. The online edition is available at: <http://jss.ecsdl.org>.
